COCALICO UNION HIGH SCHOOL

DENVER, PENNSYLVANIA

FOREWORD

We, the graduating class of 1963, will never forget our six years at Cocalico Union High School and will carry many fond memories with us for the rest of our lives. The following pages will help us share part of our high school life with the public.

Graduation fulfilled a long worked-for goal. Now we step out into a world full of conflicts and tension. Once again we have a goal before us-the goal of preserving and strengthening the peace of the world. For this reason we are dedicating our yearbook to World Peace. May we inspire others to accept the same goal!!!

DEDICATION

"They shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning-hooks; nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more."

Isaiah 2:4

The concept of peace is not a new one, but the fulfillment of it has probably never been as necessary as today.

Yet the answer is so simple. If each person in the world would make an effort to understand everyone else, there would be no cold war, no Berlin crisis, no arms buildup, and no constant fear of war.

We realize that we, as individuals or, for that matter, as a class, cannot change the course of events of the world and have no earthshaking plan to bring about world unity. But we also realize that world peace is a goal worth hoping for, praying for, and working for. Thus we dedicate our yearbook to the hope and preservation of world peace.

If we and our allies act out of strength and unity of purpose . . . with calm determination and steady nerves . . . using restraint in our words as well as our weapons . . . I am hopeful that both peace and freedom will be sustained.

John F. Kennedy

U THANT, SECRETARY-GENERAL OF THE UNITED NATIONS

ROBERT F. SMITH, Supervising Principal
DENVER, PA.

The class of 1963 of Cocalico Union High School will have many memories of their secondary school experience and I'm sure that most of them will be pleasant. You are to be commended on the selection of your motto "World Peace" for at no time in history has this topic been more important. The very existence of humanity is balanced on the problem of existence with those who differ. You have had some experience in "getting along" or "living with" others, and thus have become a more mature, responsible member of a free society.

Military genius may save the nation from conquest by aggressors from without. Only education can lead our people to understand and thus appreciate the American Democratic Way, and only through understanding and appreciation comes the will to preserve and foster it.

To the extent that your education has nurtured in you this will and ability to live fully and democratically it has prepared you to meet this challenge. May you, with the help of God find yourselves prepared to meet it courageously and successfully, and with the same vigorous activity which has been characteristic of you in your school life.

TO THE CLASS OF 1963:

Let's be realistic. Is there any action included in your plans for the future which might bring an unrestful world to a more peaceful world?

No amount of verbal admonishment is going to switch the world from violence to peace. Think of the opportunities each of you have to bring peace to your fellow man. The best in your heart must awaken to find some valid reason for living. And God longs to wake us up to the fact that the one real gift we can share of eternal value is His spirit of love and peace to mankind. This will not change the world over night. It may be slow, but it is the way each of you can share in the responsibility for world peace.

May all the happiness of the future be yours.

Sincerely,
Homer P. Weaver

TO THE CLASS OF 1963:

Your theme "World Peace" is certainly an appropriate theme in this turbulent decade of the sixties.

A graduating senior might wonder what he can do to foster World Peace. He might appear to be insignificant in relationship to world leaders who determine whether we will have World Peace.

World Peace ultimately depends upon a strong America. America's strength depends upon the strength of her citizens, especially her younger citizens.

Therefore, a graduating senior can contribute to World Peace by being morally strong, by being a responsible citizen and by utilizing his talents fully.

Sincerely,
Kenneth Flinchbaugh

COCCALICO UNION JR. SR. H. S.

CLASS HISTORY

In September of 1960, 180 eager sophomores entered the final phase of their high school career. The following officers were elected: President, Trudy Evans; Vice-President, Dean Wenrich; Secretary, Gerry Ann Hopkins; Treasurer, Salinda Bachman. Under the advisorship of Mr. Rufus Martzall we selected red and black as our class colors. The class jackets arrived in December.

Fund-raising projects throughout the sophomore year included coat-checking at basketball games, soup and sandwich sales, and the Thanksgiving dance, "The Gobble Rock."

At the close of our sophomore year several campers spent a weekend at Rebobath Beach, Delaware, where they went deep sea fishing and swimming.

Trudy Evans was elected to lead our junior year. Clyde Martin was elected Vice-President, Gerry Ann Hopkins, Secretary; and Pat Beamesderfer, Treasurer. We held two dances, "Mistletoe Magic" and the "Shemrock Hop." Junior class thespians presented "Men are like Streetcars" under the direction of Mr. Daniel Brensinger.

The year was climaxed by a beautiful prom, "Hawaiian Luau" in the high school gym. Atmosphere was provided by a large grass hut, hand-made palm trees, tropical flowers, and Japanese lanterns. Tillman & Fisher provided the music. The Ephrata Legion was the scene for the post prom "Club Cocalico". The class of 1963 began its busy last year by electing the following officers: Trudy Evans, President; James Beamesderfer, Vice-President; Gerry Ann Hopkins, Secretary; and Linda Gring; Treasurer. Mr. Ralph Lutz served as Senior Class advisor. "Peace rules the day, reason rules the mind" was chosen as the class motto, and the French rose was selected as the class flower.

We augmented our treasury by selling refreshments at football and basketball games, by sponsoring three dances, and by producing the play "Our Town", directed by Mr. Chester Sweigart. The play was a definite success.

On April 26, we journeyed to Washington, D. C. Highlights of the trip included an ascent of the Washington Monument, a tour of the Smithsonian Institute and the International Airport, and dinner at the Casina Royal where we were entertained by Neil Sedaka.

The New York Trip on way to included tours of the United Nations and Rockefeller Center as well as a show in the Radio City Music Hall. We dined at Taffonetti's on Times Square.

The junior class welcomed us to a "Southern Serenade" at the annual prom on May 31. King and queen of the event were James Beamesderfer and Bonnie Bates. The post prom was held at the Ephrata Legion.

Baccalaureate and Commencement marked the end of our high school days. The Rev. Donald Storm delivered the Baccalaureate meditation entitled "A New Beginning." On June 5, 1963, eighty-five seniors became alumni at the Commencement service. Dr. Harry Gerlach, the County Superintendent of School, addressed the graduates. As one of the speakers said "thus ends our first great lesson."

The team ended with a 1-3-1 record. These hard-working boys are to be commended. They have displayed excellent sportsmanship. Coach Stauffer did a fine job of coaching these freshmen athletes. His fine efforts are sure to be rewarded when these boys play varsity ball.

FIELD HOCKEY

"Sticks down!" our coach, Mrs. Barbara Heckman, could frequently be heard saying during our most successful year in three years of Girl's Hockey. The girls, led by co-captains Salinda Bachman and Gerry Hopkins, compiled a 2 win-6 loss record and made history by winning the first varsity games of the girls sport at C. U. H. S. The senior's who received letters for the past three years are: Salinda Bachman, L. I., Dorothy Good, L. W., Gerry Hopkins, C. F., Maribeth Mowrey, R. F., Madeline Weinhold, R. H.

Each year the chorus, led by our very capable director, Mr. Gates, presents the school and the public with most enjoyable music. The group is featured in the Christmas and Easter assemblies and the Night of Music.

We are fortunate in having very capable pianists whose talents add much to the presentations.

HIGH CHORUS

Director - William Gates

Several outstanding students have been selected to district and state choruses. They are Sandra Boose, Maribeth Mowrey, Gerald Longenecker, Pam Nies, and Brenda Witman.

The music produced by our chorus continues to inspire us throughout the year.

SENIOR ROYALTY, PROM QUEEN AND KING
BONNIE BATES AND JIM BEAMESDERFER

MAY 31, 1963

BACCALAUREATE

On June 2, 1963, Baccalaureate Service was held in our auditorium. The speaker for the evening was Rev. Donald Storm.

The serious atmosphere which this religious service imparted to our class was an appropriate one to carry into graduation day. This memorable day, June 5, 1963, was highlighted by Commencement exercises in the evening. Student speakers, student musicians, and guest speaker Harry Gerlach, County Superintendent of Schools, lent their talents to the program. Diplomas were presented to the graduating seniors by Kenneth Hopkins, of the School Board.

For twelve consecutive years our lives have been sheltered and nurtured by parents, teachers, and friends. Their assistance was essential to us especially when we faced problems.

A great change will take place in the life of every senior. We will cope with the problems, accept the responsibilities, and meet the challenges of a new kind of life. Whether we attend colleges or training schools, serve the armed forces, or begin working immediately after graduation, we will meet many changes.

We, the class of 1963, feel assured that the help we received has been sufficient to enable us to become adult citizens in the complex world of today.
